

Changing Cultures in Early Byzantium (Collected Studies Series, 536)

These essays on the history and archaeology of Byzantine Asia Minor from the 4th-14th centuries include regional surveys of the south-west (Lycia and Pampylia), as well as discussions of specific sites and other monuments. A variety of surviving remains are put into historical context, in order to show that the archaeological record is essential for recreating and understanding the nature and development of the Byzantine Empire.
